

The MSRT wants to help you celebrate National Radiologic Technology Week!

As a show of our appreciation to all of our fellow medical imaging technologists, we are offering 1 free credit approval for your institution.

Planning to have a lecture at your institution during Radiologic Technologist Week or as part of a continued celebration later in the month? Take advantage of this free gift and help get a CE lecture approved for your institution at no cost. Try out our new, easier online submission portal for your live-lecture. There are no approval category restrictions. First time submitted can email info@msrt-ma.org for assistance with the lecture approval process or additional information. See details below!
